

PAY FULL WAR DEBT SENATOR M'NARY ASKS

Victory Loan Subscriptions Will Come from Every True American, He Says

United States Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon urges every American to rally to the support of the Victory Loan in the following statement:

"The spirit of the American people has so far kept the government on its financial feet, and as long as this spirit maintains, this government will not be embarrassed in meeting its post-war obligations. The American people have come to the fore each time a Liberty Loan was floated, and now they are asked for the last time to answer the call as willingly as they did while this country was engaged in war, and buy Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps to the limit of their capital.

"No personal sacrifice is entailed; all can help and at the same time help themselves, for the government merely asks for the loan of our dollars, promising to return them with interest in due time. We cannot afford to shirk this duty, and besides I believe that the love every true American possesses for his country will cause every person who can possibly afford to do so to take up some of these government securities, helping the government pay its war debts.

"Let's all see it through, and write a fitting concluding chapter to America's great undertaking. Let no one say that America is a land of quitters. Every true American who realizes his country's needs is always willing to come to bat with his money or his life, if need be, as was so tellingly demonstrated in the great struggle just ended."

METHODISTS OFFER ORGANIZATION FOR V. LOAN CAMPAIGN

Church Halts $100,000,000 Drive to Help Government Float Last War Loan.

The Joint Methodist Centenary Commission has turned over to the Government for the Victory Loan its entire organization, comprising 17,000 pastors, 60,000 minute men, and 20 area offices and staffs. The organization, in tendering its services to Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass, announced also that the Methodist drive for $105,000,000, which was dated for the same period as the Victory Loan, has been postponed until May 18th to make way for the loan.

Secretary Fred B. Fisher, offering the Centenary organization to Secretary Glass, wrote: "Recognizing the absolute importance of the full success of the Victory Loan Campaign of our Government, we heartily commend the action of the Joint Commission in postponing the intensive drive of the Church to give precedence to the Victory Loan Campaign." With the corps of trained speakers and executives of the entire Methodist press and publicity departments will be loaned to the Government.

STREET URCHIN MADE A GUARD

(Associated Press Correspondence)

MONTEVIDEO, March 6.—One of the first acts of Dr. Baltasar Brum on assuming the presidency of Uruguay was to substitute a little street urchin for the brightly uniformed guard that had been sent to his residence, in keeping with a custom of long standing. The boy used to sell lottery tickets and newspapers to Dr. Brum at the Central Railway station. Three years ago he told Dr. Brum "when you get to be president, I want to be your doorkeeper."

Dr. Brum smiled at the prophecy and said if such a thing ever happened to him he would not forget the request. Just before his inauguration, Dr. Brum sent for the boy and kept his promise.

WASHOE CITY'S DAYS RECALLED

The recent write-up of the passing of Washoe City was very interesting to old-timers and recalls to my mind many other interesting events in that part of Washoe county during 1864-65," said a pioneer of this county this morning.

Washoe City, Galena, Ophir and Truckee were at their best in 1864. Washoe county polled a larger vote at the presidential election held on November 8, 1864, than at any election held prior to 1900, although Reno, Verdi and Washoeville had been on the map of Washoe county since 1863. Nevada was admitted into the union as a state on the 31st of October, 1864, and the first state election was held eight days later. The campaign though short was intensely enthusiastic and exciting and the greatest political rally ever held in Washoe county was held at Washoe City during that short campaign.

"It was Civil War times and both political parties held their meetings the same night and tried to outdo each other in the size of their torch-light procession and in the amount of patriotic noise. The streets of Washoe City had been apportioned so the democrats could have about one-half of the main streets and the republicans the other half for their processions. But when the big republican delegation from Batavia began to arrive at Washoe City the route assigned the republicans was all occupied and the overflow had to utilize a part of the democratic route.

"This held up the 'Brown Rangers,' the first division of the democratic procession. Then the Brown Rangers were determined to make the republicans march to the tune of 'Dixie' and with much long power they began singing 'Dixie' with a vim.

"But the delegation from Galena was composed largely of robust bull whacker and lumbermen with tre-mandous lung and voice capacity and when they began singing that old John Brown war song the Dixie music was abandoned.

Gov. Nye spoke at the republican meeting. He was a fine orator and one of the best story tellers on the coast and, when he told how he turned one of the biggest religious revival meetings ever held in New York into a political republican rally, it electrified his audience. Nye was stamping the district where this revival was being held and did not like to hold a political meeting in that town while the exciting revival was going on, so he attended the revival on the night he was advertised to make a speech.

Nye was greatly interested in the proceedings and after about 200 converts had been secured it was noticed that Nye was present taking great interest and they thought salvation was beginning to take effect on Nye so he was called on for a few remarks.

"Nye said that, when he first arose to address that vast audience, he was greatly embarrassed but his mother had taught him a few verses from the Bible when he went to Sunday school. He repeated those, then he said the first thing he knew he was making one of the most soul-stirring republican speeches he ever made and the enthusiasm of the audience knew no bounds, and when he closed his peroration many of the ladies were sobbing and some were quite hysterical. When Nye had resumed his seat one old lady, after wiping the tears from her eyes and cheeks, whispered to the lady next to her that she never in all her life saw a man so chuck full of salvation as Nye and she felt sure that the saint he was preaching about would be elected."

BOMB SUSPECT UNDER ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 29.—Discovered prowling about the Daily City country home of W. G. Henshaw, San Francisco capitalist, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. George D. Greenwood, who was killed two months ago by a bomb explosion in her Oakland home, C. J. Steffen, 37 years old, was arrested Sunday morning and lodged in the Daily City prison.

Taxed with actual throwback of the bomb which killed Mrs. Greenwood Steffen admitted he planted the explosive. Police of San Francisco and Oakland were immediately communicated with. The San Mateo authorities believe Steffen is mentally unbalanced.

"I planted the bomb at the Greenwood home," said Steffen yesterday. "I wanted to loosen up the ground for the planting of crops," he continued.

"More crops should be grown. Rich men have no right to take up such valuable land for their homes. I fired that bomb to loosen up the ground."

Steffen told the San Mateo county authorities that he had an expert knowledge of dynamite and the construction of bombs. He denied he was an I. W. W.

The capture of the suspect was under thrilling circumstances, and Mrs. Henshaw played a leading role. Shortly after midnight, Steffen was discovered prowling about the painful country residence of Henshaw by Enrico Battistini. The residence is near Thornton station on the Ocean Shore railroad.

WEST END CON. ANNUAL REPORT

West End Consolidated Mining company, of which P. M. ("Borax") Smith is president, had a better year in 1918 and was able in its annual statement to show improved finances. The surplus was $1,409,868, as against $1,006,023 for the previous year and $918,856 a year ago. The net income from mining and milling at the Tonopah property in 1918 was $401,551, as against $231,129 in 1917 and $171,877 in 1916. Ore produced amounted to 50,195 dry tons, as against 45,910 in 1917. "Cost of production, owing to war conditions," says President Smith, "was increased about 1 per cent over the previous year. While the price of silver bullion was higher in 1918, it did not reach the price it would have done were it not for government restrictions, and it may be safely assumed that as soon as conditions come to normal silver will be considerably higher, as there is an unprecedented demand for it, with apparently a world shortage of this metal."

West End Consolidated Mining company during the past year has taken upon its shoulders other enterprises, and reference is made to these in President Smith's report. He refers to the acquisition of valuable properties at Searles Lake, Calif., and says that development work on both these properties is proceeding as rapidly as circumstances will permit. Operations would have been under way this year but for government restrictions causing difficulty in securing and shipping materials. Even under these adverse conditions work at Honduras is progressing rapidly, and reports from the engineers in charge show that the mine is fully up to expectations. J. W. Sherwin, general manager, has gone to Honduras to familiarize himself with the property, which will be under his supervision.

At Searles Lake the company has about 2200 acres under lease from the United States government, which is being developed under supervision of the general manager. Similar properties at Searles Lake are being operated satisfactorily by others established there for some years. The government is ready a partner in this enterprise, and naturally is interested in making it a success.
